1. Friction between the political groups and the Service d'Ordre of the RFF in the Paris region has been eliminated as a result of the purge of the former and the reorganization of the latter.

25X1A6a

2. The Service d'Ordre in the Paris region has averaged 100 new members a day since General de Gaulle issued the order to intensify the recruiting program. In addition "Brigades Centrales" (of which there are 22 in the Paris region) are increasing in membership.

25X1A6a

"Brigades Centrales" have been formed in various Government agencies and the membership in each brigade is limited to personnel of the particular agency in which the brigade is organized.

3. The following "Brigades Centrales" are under the direct authority of Lt. Claude Dumont, Secretary General of the Paris Region Service d'Ordre. (The remaining sixteen brigades are under the command of the Geographic Sectors.)

- a. Ministry of the Interior - Chief: "Denis" [REDACTED] A 25X1A6a
"Denis" has previously been reported as directing the clandestine penetration of the police services for the Service d'Ordre.)
- b. Surete Nationale - Chief: A certain Delphieu; this brigade is composed of police in the Seine-et-Oise.
- c. Villacoublay Air Base - groups military pilots stationed at the Base.
- d. Bourget Air Base
- e. Secretariat d'Etat aux Forces Armees (Marine) - groups naval personnel in this Secretariat.
- f. Prefecture of Police - groups police in Seine Department.
